Since its first depiction in the late 14th century, the compass rose has been inextricably linked to the spirit of ingenuity and adventure that characterizes exploration. As a symbol deeply connected to the winds, land and seas, a traveler could always count on the Compass Rose to show them the direction in which they were headed.

In keeping with this tradition, the Compass Rose Club has been created to provide enhanced support for The Royal Canadian Geographical Society, so that it may continue to guide Canadians toward a better understanding of their country and their place in the world.

Composed of a diverse group of professionals, leaders and innovators, the Compass Rose Club provides a unique opportunity to donors who share a commitment to fostering love for our country and a greater understanding of its rich geographic heritage, and want to take a more active role in supporting the work of the Society.

Membership in the Compass Rose Club is open to all individuals making an annual gift of $2,500 or more to The Royal Canadian Geographical Society. This gift can be provided through either a one-time donation or monthly giving.

Annual membership in the Compass Rose Club offers:
